

FILM FEST ON ENVIRONMENT

 The nominations for the 2011 CMS Vatavaran, India's international competitive environment and wildlife film festival were announced recently. This year, 68 films have been nominated by a 37-member jury, headed by scholar and diplomat, Dr Abid Hussain. The festival received more than 300 film entries from 27 countries. The film festival will be organised from December 6-10 at the Convention Centre, opposite Jantar Mantar, New Delhi and the winners will be announced in an award ceremony on December 9 in the city.